Visit to the NGO -

During our visit to the NGO, we had the heartwarming opportunity to teach underprivileged children, many of whom face daily challenges but are full of enthusiasm and eagerness to learn. The classroom was filled with bright, curious faces, eager to absorb new knowledge and skills. We focused on interactive lessons, using games and activities to teach basic subjects like math, language, and science, while also instilling values of teamwork and creativity. Despite their limited resources, the children's energy and determination were truly inspiring. It was a humbling experience, reminding us of the importance of giving back and empowering these young minds to dream beyond their circumstances.
